FOLEY FIELD REVIVAL

A $12 million project known as the "Foley Field Revival" was completed this past January. In December of 2012, the lead gift for this renovation was provided by the Foley family of Columbus, Ga. These initial steps paved the way for construction plans to be put in place and the entire scope of the project to be realized. It provided the nearly 25-year-old facility a drastic facelift and helped regain its former glory.

The project included a new locker room, lounge and training areas for the student-athletes as well as brand new amenities for fans, including a larger concourse and two new club-seating areas. An expanded and remodeled press box and Foley Field entrance finished off the fresh look.

Bulldogs Making Progress

A Converation With Head Coach Scott Stricklin

Heading in to your second season, how do you feel about the 2015 club?

"I feel like everybody is on the same page. We spent a lot of time last year teaching to a large group. This year, we have 21 players back, so they know what to expect and what we expect from them, and they helped with our 14 newcomers. Last year, we had 46 players in fall camp and it was new for everybody. They all realize it's about doing things the right way on and off the field and that you represent UGA, your family and the program. People are watching so do the right thing all the time.

"We know our personnel better. I think the confidence level of our players is higher. Last year, I felt like some players were waiting for things to go wrong, and this year, I see a more confident team that believes they are going to win. We are working towards getting back to that winning mentality consistently."

Was there a key moment last year when you were excited about the progress of the program?

"It was the South Carolina weekend. We had sellouts for all three games and won the series. At one point in between innings of one of the games, I recall looking up in the stands and down the third base line and seeing people trying to watch the game through the chain link fence. They were finding a way to watch us play, and I bumped Coach (Scott) Daeley on the elbow and said, "Do you see that? People are excited; they want to see good baseball." That's what we're trying to get back to again.

"Last year, it was a big deal for the team to make it to the SEC Tournament. It was nice to send the older players out like that and to see the excitement of the younger guys to get that experience too. It's just the first step and now we have to take the next steps of advancing in the SEC tournament, getting in an NCAA regional, hosting a regional, a super regional and getting back to Omaha for the College World Series."

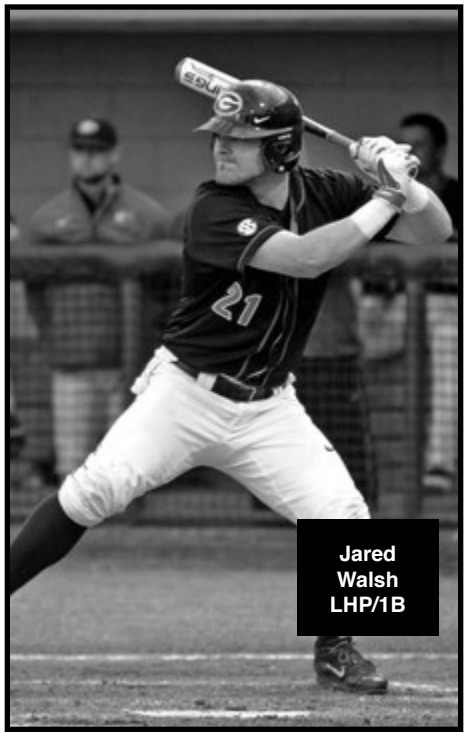
What's the pitching outlook for 2015?

"Our rotation is going to consist of Robert Tyler, Ryan Lawlor, David Sosebee, Sean McLaughlin, Jared Walsh and Ryan Avidano. For Sean, Jared and Ryan (Avidano), we're going to see about their role on the weekend and our midweek games as far as starting or being in the bullpen.

"Our top relievers who emerged last year, over the summer and from the fall were Connor Jones, Mike Mancuso, David Gonzalez and Bo Tucker plus Jared Cheek returns as our late-inning option. The bullpen is an important part of our team, and if they do well, we'll have a lot of success."

Robert Tyler RHP

Stephen Wrenn OF



Jared Walsh LHP/1B

What's different about the 2015 club compared to the 2014 edition?

"We are going to be more athletic and be able to make things happen offensively. We have more depth. For example at catcher, we've got senior Brandon Stephens and junior Zack Bowers. When one is catching, the other will be our designated hitter (DH) or be available as a pinch-hitter. It's the same at first base/DH with senior Jared Walsh and junior Daniel Nichols.

"We've got options at the corner outfield spots too with sophomore Skyler Weber and freshman Keegan McGovern along with junior DJ Smith and freshman Mitchell Webb. Sophomore Stephen Wrenn will anchor the group in centerfield. He showed last year that he's one of the better defenders in our league."

What impact will the new flat seam baseball have on the game this year?

"The ball jumps off the bat and carries more so you should see an increase in home runs. A high fly ball to the track last year will be a home run this year. I think more offense, more home runs is a positive for the game. I didn't hear any complaints from the pitchers in the fall, and the hitters seemed to like it. In theory, the exit velocity hasn't changed. With the flat seams, the drag on the baseball is not as great so the ball is not getting knocked down as it flies through the air."

How excited are you about the 2015 home slate?

"We have a tremendous home schedule with some of the top teams coming to Foley Field. You look at our non-conference schedule, and NCAA Regional teams like Florida State, Georgia Tech, Clemson and Kennesaw State will be here. Once the SEC season starts, we have an up-and-coming team in Missouri first and then we'll see four national powers in Vanderbilt, LSU, Florida and Arkansas who will contend for Omaha again and that's the conversation we need to be in annually. With good weather and good baseball, we could set some attendance records."

Scott STRICKLIN

Head Coach
2nd Season/11th overall
(Kent State '95)

#10

Scott Stricklin, who led his alma mater Kent State to five NCAA Regionals and the 2012 College World Series, was named head baseball coach at the University of Georgia on June 3, 2013.

Since arriving at UGA, Stricklin, 42, has created an atmosphere of excitement around the program, starting with the current student-athletes, extending to the former lettermen and to Georgia baseball fans around the state. He has organized numerous lettermen functions to help reunite the Bulldogs and steered the $12 million Foley Field Revival project that was completed for the start of the 2015 season.

In his first year with the Bulldogs, he led Georgia back to the SEC Tournament for the first time since 2012. Georgia increased their overall and SEC win total from 2013 while playing a league-high 30 games against ranked teams in the regular season and did so without their projected No. 1 and No. 3 starters in the rotation and cleanup hitter for much of the year due to injuries. The Bulldogs compiled an 11-game winning streak during the year, which was the longest since 2009, and they captured a series over seventh-ranked South Carolina, the first over a top 10 team since 2011. A total of three Bulldogs signed professional contracts after being drafted.

During a nine-year stint with the Golden Flashes, Stricklin posted a 350-188 record, winning five Mid-American Conference regular season crowns and five MAC Tournament titles. Known for developing student-athletes on and off the field, 30 KSU players were selected in the Major League Baseball draft during his tenure, and from 2010-12, the team registered a perfect 1,000 score in the NCAA's Academic Performance Rate (APR) report. KSU was one of only 16 schools in the country to reach this academic accomplishment and the only public institution on the list. Also, the Golden Flashes were honored in Omaha in 2012 for having the highest team Grade Point Average (GPA) of all the eight participants at the College World Series (CWS), owning a 3.09 GPA. For the spring semester of 2013, the KSU baseball team registered a 3.06 GPA.

Stricklin earned his first head coaching job in July of 2004 when he returned to Kent State following three seasons as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Georgia Tech under former KSU head coach Danny Hall. Stricklin began his coaching career in 1998 as a volunteer coach for the Yellow Jackets and then spent two years as the pitching coach at Vanderbilt from 2000-01.

While at Tech, he landed the consensus No. 1 ranked recruiting class in 2002 as they advanced to the College World Series that year, and they made it to an NCAA Super Regional in 2004 before falling to Georgia in Atlanta. His final

Fred CORRAL

Asst. Coach/Pitching
2nd Season
(Sacramento State '98)

#34

Fred Corral, one of the most respected pitching coaches in the country, enters his second season as an assistant coach with the Bulldogs.

Corral arrived at Georgia in June of 2013 to direct the pitching staff after spending four seasons as pitching coach at the University of Memphis. During his career, he has served as an assistant coach in charge of the pitching staff at Tennessee, Oklahoma, Sacramento City College and San Joaquin Delta College plus as an instructor in the professional ranks with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Montreal Expos. A total of 66 pitchers have been drafted under his tutelage including 11 in the top 10 rounds with eight reaching the Major Leagues.

In his first year with the Bulldogs, Corral gave opportunities to 19 pitchers and molded a staff that wound up missing its projected No. 1 and No. 3 starters for much of the season due to injuries. Robert Tyler earned Freshman All-America honors after going 6-4 with a 2.68 ERA in 80.2 innings. Tyler's ERA was the lowest by a Bulldog starting pitcher in 10 years. Overall, Georgia made its first SEC Tournament appearance since 2012.

Corral's work with the Memphis pitching staff saw the Tigers steadily improve their Earned Run Average each season including posting a 3.05 mark in 2013 which was the best for the program since 1976. In three of his four seasons with Memphis, the staff registered 400-plus strikeouts including a record 462 in 2010. In 2013, Memphis' top two pitchers were drafted for the first time in their career: Sam Moll (3rd round, Colorado) and Erik Schoenrock (11th round, San Diego), and Schoenrock became the first Tiger in school history to be named Conference USA Pitcher of the Year. Under Corral, eight Tiger pitchers had an opportunity to play professional baseball including a pair of third round picks.

Prior to arriving at Memphis, Corral worked two stints at Tennessee under different head coaches (2003-04, 2008-09) and three years at Oklahoma (2005-07). In Corral's most recent stint at Tennessee, he helped develop several pitchers who would eventually get drafted including lefthander Bryan Morgado. He went on to earn Freshman All-America honors and strike out 104 batters, marking just the second time in Volunteer baseball history that a freshman eclipsed the 100-strikeout plateau. Morgado was drafted in the fourth round by Philadelphia in 2010.

Corral made the move to head the pitching staff at Oklahoma following the 2004 season in Knoxville. During his three years with the Sooners, he helped OU to a pair of NCAA Regional appearances, including the program's first Super Regional showing in 2006. During Corral's tenure with the Sooners, nine pitchers were taken in the MLB Draft (including 13th-rounder Daniel McCutchen) and six OU hurlers earned All-Big 12 honors.

During Corral's first stint at Tennessee, the Volunteers' pitching staff ranked among the best in the SEC. His staffs posted consecutive sub-3.90 ERAs, and UT's 3.51 ERA in 2004 was the 13th best in the country. The 2004 Volunteer staff recorded the fifth most strikeouts in school history and held opponents to a .243 batting average, which was UT's lowest mark in nine seasons. Tennessee also had three pitchers in 2004 with ERAs that ranked among the top 12 in the SEC.Four of Corral's pitchers at Tennessee were selected in the MLB draft. He signed James Adkins and coached Luke Hochevar, hurlers who rank first and third on UT's all-time strikeouts list.

Corral began his collegiate coaching career in 1993 as a pitching coach at his alma mater, San Joaquin Delta Junior College in Stockton, Calif. He spent two seasons there before going to Sacramento (Calif.) City College (SCC) from 1996-2002. Corral served as the pitching coach at SCC, where he was a vital part of the program's success, working for one of the most successful junior college coaches in the nation in Jerry Weinstein. During this time, SCC produced one national championship, five Bay Valley East Conference titles and a pair of state runner-up finishes. SCC posted a 281-56-1 record for a .833 winning percentage during his tenure. Of the 36 drafted pitchers under his tutelage at SCC, 13 signed professional contracts. Every pitcher Corral coached at SCC was either drafted or transferred to a four-year institution.

Corral's former pupils who have reached the Major Leagues include Matt Riley, Adam Bernero, Mike Neu, Joe Horgan, Daniel McCutchen, Garrett Richards, Charlie Zink and Luke Hochevar. Corral's instruction has helped 71 pitchers reach the professional level. Corral's professional coaching experience came as a pitching instructor in the Los Angeles Dodgers (2000-01) and Montreal Expos (1999) organizations. Also, he served as coach for MLB International when it toured Switzerland in 1994.

As a player, Corral was a first-team All-Pac-10 selection as a lefthanded relief pitcher at the University of California in 1987. The Golden Bears' eighth 10-game winner, Corral set a school record for single-season win-loss percentage with a perfect 10-0 record as a junior in 1987. The southpaw added five saves and a 3.75 ERA in en route to earning the team's Most Valuable Pitcher honor. Corral helped lead the Golden Bears to their fourth College World Series appearance in 1988. He finished his two-year Bear career with a 13-5 mark, a 4.50 ERA and six saves. Corral starred at San Joaquin Delta Junior College where he garnered All-Camino Notre Conference honors in 1985 and 1986 before transferring to Cal.

Corral is married to the former Cynthia Drost, of Ripon, Calif., and they have three children, Kaitlyn Joy (14), Justin Jerome (10) and Jordan Patrick (3). Also, they raised two nieces, Marisa (24) and Chelsea (21), and two nephews, Michael (25) and Robert (19).

Scott Daeley begins his second season as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for the University of Georgia baseball program.

Daeley, 37, serves as Georgia's hitting coach, works with the outfielders and is the third base coach. He arrived at Georgia from Kent State in June of 2013 where he was a member of Scott Stricklin's staff for nine years.

In Daeley's first season, Georgia's highlights included returning to the SEC Tournament for the first time since 2012 and two Bulldog hitters being selected in the Major League Baseball (MLB) draft. Shortstop Nelson Ward was a 12th round pick while outfielder/third baseman Hunter Cole was drafted in the 26th round.

As the hitting coach at KSU, Daeley helped develop 30 All-Mid-American Conference position players, three MAC Players of the Year and six All-Americans. During Daeley's time as recruiting coordinator at KSU, the Golden Flashes assembled classes that excelled both on the field and in the classroom. He was a part of the KSU program that made five NCAA Regional appearances highlighted by the 2012 College World Series.

A total of 36 Flashes were selected in the MLB Draft from 2005-13 including 26 during his final five seasons at KSU. After the 2012 season that saw the Flashes reach the College World Series, Baseball America went back and re-ranked the recruiting classes from 2008 and ranked the Golden Flashes as having the ninth best class. The 2006 class was ranked by Baseball America as the No. 17 class in the country becoming the first Mid-American Conference program to be included in their recruiting Top 25.

In conference play, KSU hitters finished in the top three in the MAC in batting average, runs and on base percentage for the past eight years and finished in the top three in fielding percentage seven of the past eight seasons. The Golden Flashes have led the league in home runs four times and taken home the batting average and runs scored crown on three occasions. In 2009, the Golden Flashes set a single season MAC record for runs scored during a season when they crossed the plate 504 times. The 2012 Kent State offense led the country in doubles with 163 and finished third in hits with 729.

Prior to going to Kent State, Daeley served as a volunteer assistant coach for two years at his alma mater Wake Forest. Daeley rejoined the Wake Forest baseball program in May 2002 after playing three years in the San Francisco Giants organization. Daeley played center field and batted leadoff for the Demon Deacons in 1998 and 1999 and was the catalyst for back-to-back Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament Championship teams. He earned second team All-ACC honors in 1999 with 27 doubles and 83 runs scored, the second most in a single season in Wake Forest baseball history.

A 31st round draft pick of the Giants following the 1999 season, Daeley played with Shreveport, San Jose and Salem-Keizer. Daeley came to Wake Forest from Cypress Junior College in California where he hit .350 and ranked among the school's all-time leaders with 98 runs scored and 43 stolen bases. He was named co-MVP of the 1997 junior college state championships.

A native of Orange, Calif., Daeley received a business degree from Wake Forest in December 2002. Scott and his wife, Alison, have two daughters, Sloan (6) and Paige (4).

Jimmy Rider, a former All-America shortstop at Kent State, is in his first season as the volunteer coach for Georgia.

Rider, 24, will work with the infielders, assist Scott Daeley with the hitters and serve as the first base coach.

He is considered to be one of the best players to ever put on a Kent State uniform. Rider ended his career as the all-time hits leader in the Mid-American Conference (MAC).

A 26th round draft pick of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 2012, he spent three seasons playing professional baseball in the Pirates and Boston Red Sox organizations as a utility infielder.

A four-year starter and team captain for the Flashes, Rider was the catalyst behind Kent State's run to the 2012 College World Series (CWS). He was named a first team All-American by Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball and a second team selection by the American Baseball Coaches Association. Also, he earned Academic All-MAC honors in 2012.

He finished his career as the all-time hits leader in the MAC with 353 and etched his name throughout the Flashes record book for his offense and defense. Rider is the KSU leader for hits, runs scored (219), at bats (1,056) and assists (773) and ranks in the top five for RBI (194), doubles (78) and total bases (486).

"Home Runs For Hometown Rivals"

Each year, the University of Georgia baseball team participates in various community service events.

For the past four years, Bulldog student-athletes from various sports have helped stage a baseball game at Foley Field featuring Special Olympic players. The fundraiser benefits Athens-Clarke County Special Olympics. The event is billed as "Home Runs for Hometown Rivals" and features a game between Special Olympic players from the Westside of Athens versus Eastside players. Rain forced the 2014 event indoors.

The unique event features pregame ceremonies, introductions and the student-athletes help the participants swing bats and run the bases. The event has raised more than $2,000 annually through ticket sales, concessions, donations and corporate sponsorships.

Student-Athletes Performing Well In the Classroom

Georgia had 85 student-athletes named to the SEC Spring Academic Honor Roll for 2014 including 12 from the baseball team. To qualify for the honor roll, student-athletes must maintain a 3.00 GPA for the preceeding academic year or have a cumulative GPA of 3.00 at the nominating institution. Also, they must have completed 24 semester hours of academic credit toward a degree and been a member of the varsity team for the sport's entire NCAA Championship segment.

The SEC Academic Honor Roll members from the baseball team were Hunter Cole (Exercise & Sport Science), Grant Earls (Finance), David Gonzalez (Consumer Journalism), Taylor Hicks (Sport Management), Mike Mancuso (Communication Studies), Sean McLaughlin (Marketing), Pete Nagel (Health & Physical Education), Ross Ripple (Risk Management & Insurance), DJ Smith (Management Information Systems), Brandon Stephens (Communication Studies), Austin Wallace (Management) and Conor Welton (History).

Since 2004, the SEC has had a First-Year Academic Honor Roll for those freshman with a 3.0 GPA and at least 24 semester hours.

A trio of Bulldogs made the First-Year Honor Roll last season: Michael Carpin, Connor Jones and Stephen Wrenn.

ENDOWMENT PROGRAM

The UGA Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program was instituted to allow supporters of the University of Georgia Athletic Association to invest in the educational opportunities of UGA student-athletes. The program is vital to the future of Georgia Athletics by providing the long-term solution of keeping pace with escalating expenses.

A gift to establish a scholarship provides income towards funding a scholarship each year and permanently memorializes the donor or any individual whose honor the scholarship is named. A full scholarship is endowed through a gift of $150,000.

Currently, there are six baseball scholarship endowments. For more information about the Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program or other giving opportunities, please contact the UGAA Development office at (877) 423-2947.

Bulldogs Return To SEC Tournament To Cap First Year Under Stricklin

Georgia (26-29-1, 11-18-1 SEC), under the direction of first-year coach Scott Stricklin, earned the final spot in the 12-team SEC Tournament field on the last day of the regular season. The Bulldogs defeated Kentucky 11-10 in a wild affair in Athens. Georgia entered the final game on a scoreless streak of 36 innings before striking for three runs in the first.

In the regular season, Georgia played a league-high 30 games against ranked teams, going 9-20-1. The Bulldogs went 4-5 over the final three SEC weekends, battling #7 South Carolina, SEC Western Division champion #11 Ole Miss in Oxford and finishing the regular season with the Wildcats.

At the SEC Tournament in Hoover, Ala., Georgia lost a heartbreaker to #16 Miss. State 5-4 in 10 innings. Georgia rallied for a pair of runs in the ninth off MSU's All-American closer Jonathan Holder only to see the Maroons answer in the 10th frame to end Georgia's season.

Inside The Numbers

Overall, Georgia batted .256 with a 4.33 ERA and that ranked 13th and 14th in the SEC. The Bulldogs averaged 4.5 runs a game, however 22 times, they scored two runs or less and went 3-18-1 in those contests. The Bulldogs posted a .966 Fielding Percentage (14th in the SEC) and turned 54 double plays. In SEC action, Georgia hit .238 with a 4.16 ERA and fielded .966. Those totals ranked 13th, 11th and 14th in the league.

Junior 3B Hunter Cole (.319-3-31) and junior SS Nelson Ward (.306-2-34) led the Georgia offense in 2014. Freshman CF Stephen Wrenn (.254-0-20) had a team-best 16 stolen bases. His speed was an asset on defense too, registering a perfect fielding percentage in 171 total chances including five assists. Wrenn set a school record for fielding by an outfielder with his 1.000 percentage.

On the mound, Georgia was paced by a youthful rotation highlighted by freshman Robert Tyler (6-4, 2.68 ERA), sophomore LHP Ryan Lawlor (4-6, 4.22 ERA) and sophomore David Sosebee (1-4, 3.12 ERA). Junior RHP Jared Cheek (5-6, 4.09 ERA, 3 Saves) anchored the bullpen with a team-high 11 decisions in 22 appearances.

Georgia Lineup Missed Key Cogs

Junior 1B/LHP Jared Walsh, the team's No. 3 starter and cleanup hitter, appeared in just 19 games in 2014 including only 9 IP. Walsh missed the final 26 games due to a sore back. In his career, Walsh is 3-5, 3.86 ERA, 3 SV in 62.1 IP and batting .251-4-36.

Sophomore RHP/OF Sean McLaughlin, the team's No. 1 starter, was limited to just 9.2 IP due to a sore arm in 2014. However, he saw action as a DH/RF in 32 games with 18 starts. He batted .274-0-4. He was an All-Freshmen SEC selection in 2013 after going 5-6 with a 3.28 ERA.

National Honors

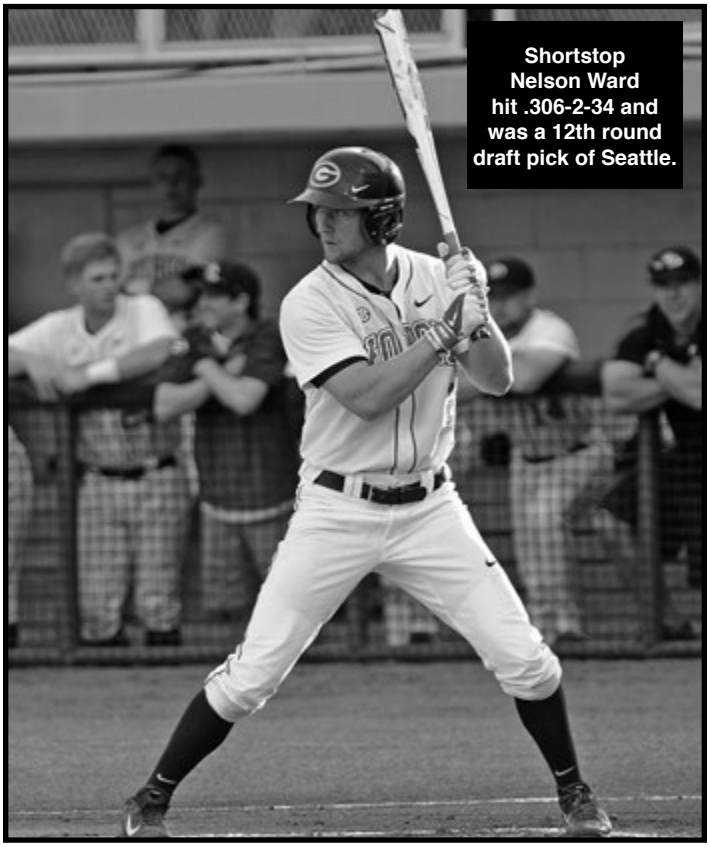
Pitcher Robert Tyler was named a Freshman All-American by Collegiate Baseball in June. Also, he was invited to compete for a roster spot on the 2014 USA Baseball Collegiate National Team. He was on track to earn a spot before opting to take the rest of the summer off to rest.

SEC Recognition

During the season, a pair of Bulldogs were selected by the SEC for Pitcher of the Week honors. Freshman RHP Robert Tyler twice was named Freshman of the Week, and in mid-May, he was the overall SEC Pitcher of the Week following a three-hit road shutout of No. 11 Ole Miss in front of 8,158.

Sophomore LHP Ryan Lawlor received the honor in May after a complete game three-hitter to beat No. 7 South Carolina.

Sophomore RHP Mike Mancuso earned a spot on the SEC Community Service team for his efforts off the field.



Shortstop Nelson Ward hit .306-2-34 and was a 12th round draft pick of Seattle.

A total of 15 Bulldogs (12 veterans and three freshmen) earned a spot on the SEC Academic Honor Roll. Junior Hunter Cole made it for the third straight year.

Trio Of Bulldogs Selected In MLB Draft

Junior SS Nelson Ward, junior LHP Jarrett Brown and junior 3B/OF Hunter Cole were selected in the 2014 MLB draft in early June. Ward was a 12th round pick of the Seattle Mariners. Brown went in the 22nd round to Seattle while Cole was a 26th round pick by San Francisco.

All three opted to turn pro, and the Bulldogs extended their string to 42 straight seasons with at least one current player signing a professional contract.

On July 6, former Bulldog pitcher Brooks Brown (2004-06) became the 37th Georgia player in school history to reach the Major Leagues.

Foley Field Revival Project Gets The Green Light

In Feb. of 2014, the University of Georgia Athletic Association Board of Directors approved a $12 million expenditure for renovations of Foley Field during its quarterly meeting in Athens. The project began at the conclusion of the 2014 season.

It is anticipated to reach completion in time for Opening Day in the spring of 2015. The goal of raising $5 million dollars from fundraising alone has nearly been accomplished. Included in the renovation project at Foley Field are updates to the locker room/lounge, seating area and to the press box.

SEC Baseball TOURNAMENT HOOVER, ALABAMA 2015

THIS IS SEC BASEBALL

The Southeastern Conference, with its storied 81-year history of athletic achievements and academic excellence, has built perhaps the greatest tradition of intercollegiate competition in baseball of any league in the country since its inception in 1933.

The SEC posted another tremendous season in 2014. A record 10 teams earned selection to NCAA postseason play with Vanderbilt and Ole Miss advancing to the College World Series (CWS). A SEC squad has appeared in the CWS 29 of the last 30 years. Vanderbilt won the CWS, marking the 10th time since 2000 that an SEC team played for the national title in Omaha and seventh in a row.

Florida won the SEC regular-season title with a 21-9 conference record while Ole Miss claimed the West at 19-11. LSU won the SEC tournament title over Florida in front of more than 10,000 fans.

The SEC boasts 13 former National Players of the Year, 12 Baseball America Coach of the Year and 11 Collegiate Baseball Coach of the Year honors. Also,166 student-athletes have been named first-team All-American, five of which came in 2014.

Tremendous Fan Support For SEC Baseball

The SEC drew a record of more than 2.3 million fans to its on-campus ballparks in 2014, the eighth year in a row to draw over 1.6 million.

Ten SEC teams drew in excess of 100,000 fans to their parks in 2014. The SEC averaged nearly 5,000 fans per game in 2014, the eighth straight year to exceed the 4,000 mark.

The SEC Baseball Tournament drew more than 120,000 fans in 2014. The SEC Championship Game was broadcast nationally on ESPN2 for the fifth straight year.

The MLB Draft

Two SEC players were taken in the first round of the 2014 MLB Amateur Draft. The SEC has now had a first round pick in each year since 1991 and 98 total in the first round during that time.

Did You Know?

Georgia won the first baseball national title for the SEC in 1990 while LSU has collected six crowns since then (1991, '93, '96, 1997, 2000, '09) while South Carolina (2010, '11) has claimed two and Vanderbilt one (2014). There have been seven runner-up finishes including Georgia in 2008, Florida in 2011, South Carolina in 2012 and Miss. State in 2013.

In 2008, Georgia became the first school to sweep the following SEC honors in the same season: Player of the Year (Gordon Beckham), Pitcher of the Year (Joshua Fields), Scholar Athlete of the Year (Gordon Beckham) and Coach of the Year (David Perno).

SEC BASEBALL LEGENDS PROGRAM

Former Georgia All-America shortstop Reggie Andrews (pictured below with SEC Commisioner Mike Slive) was honored at the 2012 Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament in Hoover, Ala., as part of the inaugural group of SEC Baseball Legends.

Four legends are recognized each year, and the 2012 class featured players from the University of Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas and Florida.

SEC ACADEMIC HONOR ROLL (1984-2014)

In 1984, the SEC developed the Academic Baseball Honor Roll to recognize those athletes who had a 3.0 grade point average (either cumulative or during the past year), and had 24 semester or 26 quarter hours countable toward a degree. Prior to the 1996-97 season, the SEC dropped the requirement of earning a letter for that season. Starting in 2002, the recipients were chosen from the previous calendar year. A total of 95 Bulldogs have been honored 160 times.

A total of 37 former Bulldogs have reached the Major League level. It began with Claude Derrick for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909. The latest Bulldog to make it to the majors was pitcher Brooks Brown with Colorado. He was one of seven Bulldogs who either saw action in the Majors in 2014 or at least appeared on a Major League roster.

Looking back in MLB history, Derrick played on Connie Mack's World Championship teams in 1910 and 1911 and, while recovering from a broken ankle in Baltimore in 1912, he was the first roommate of a rookie pitcher named George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Nolen Richardson, a Georgia standout in football and basketball in the 1920s, played six years in the majors and returned to coach the Bulldogs in 1951. Johnny Rucker was featured in LIFE as a promising rookie in 1940.

While many Bulldogs enjoyed success throughout their career, one who stands out is Spurgeon "Spud" Chandler. Chandler was a part of seven World Series teams for the New York Yankees, including winners of six championships. Actually, he first played in Yankee Stadium as a member of the Bulldog football team. Georgia defeated New York University 7-6 on Nov. 7, 1931. Following his graduation in 1932, the Carnesville, Ga., native spent five years in the minors before returning to Yankee Stadium as a major leaguer. In his 11-year career, his finest season came in 1943. He led the league in Wins, Earned Run Average and Complete Games, going 20-4 with a 1.64 ERA and 20 complete games. He went 2-0 with a 0.50 ERA in the 1943 World Series, winning game one and pitching a shutout in the clinching game five over St. Louis.

MLB TRIVIA: Larry Littleton and former St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Michael Potter hold the MLB record for most career at bats by a non-pitcher without a hit. Littleton made the Indians 1981 team out of spring training. He made his debut in game two that season, pinch-hitting in the ninth inning. He grounded out to eventual Hall of Famer Robin Yount. His lone RBI came on a bases-loaded line out off Minnesota's Jerry Koosman that Mickey Hatcher ran down. Most of his at-bats came as a pinch-hitter, and he started just four games over a 45-day span.

GORDON BECKHAM MVP AWARD

Starting in 2014, the annual MVP Award was named in honor of one of UGA's greatest players, All-American Gordon Beckham. He earned Southeastern Conference Player of the Year as well as SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year honors in his career.

"Gordon possesses all the qualities a program is looking for in their most valuable player, and he continues to represent Georgia in a first class manner as a professional in the Major Leagues," said UGA head coach Scott Stricklin. "It's a tribute to how he valued the importance of excelling in the classroom and on the field as a Georgia Bulldog."

Beckham arrived at UGA in 2006 as an undrafted infielder and went on to establish himself as one of the best ever to wear the red and black. He was tabbed an All-American and an Academic All-American. He started all 197 games of his three-year career, leading Georgia to a pair of College World Series appearances including the 2008 CWS Finals. He was a first round draft pick of the Chicago White Sox in 2008, made his MLB debut less then a year later and was named the 2009 American League Rookie of the Year by the MLB Players Association and The Sporting News.

USA BASEBALL TEAM

USA Baseball, based in Durham, N.C., is the national governing body of amateur baseball in the United States and a member of the United States Olympic Committee (USOC).

The organization selects, trains, and supports the USA Baseball Team and a Junior Team which participates in international competitions, including the Olympic Games and World Championships.

While the first official exhibition baseball game in the Olympics was a 1912 contest in Stockholm, Sweden, reports exist that an unrecognized baseball game was played at the 1904 Games in St. Louis, Mo. A number of single game exhibitions were also played at the 1936, 1952, 1956, and 1964 Olympic Games. The 1992 Games in Barcelona was the debut of baseball as a medal sport.

OLYMPIC TEAM

1936 Henry Wagnon, C (Bostwick, Ga.)

Wagnon was one of 22 delegates to the International Sports Congress whose members demonstrated American Games to other nations in Berlin. Although other countries had planned to send teams for the baseball tournament, none did. So, the USA squad split into two teams and played a night game before a world-record crowd reported to be over 125,000. The World Amateurs defeated the USA Olympics 6-5.

1990 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

The 1990 season will long be remembered as the finest ever produced at Georgia.

Catcher Terry Childers' play in the seventh preserved a 2-1 lead as Stan Payne and Dave Fleming combined to lead the Bulldogs to the national title.

Georgia was invited to Washington D.C., to discuss the strategy they used with President George Bush, a baseball letterman in his collegiate days at Yale.

Steve Webber compiled a 500-403-1 record in 16 seasons (1981-96) as the head coach at Georgia. He led the Bulldogs to two College World Series appearances (1987, '90), including a national championship in 1990.

After his Georgia coaching career, Webber has served as a pitching coach in the following organizations: New York Yankees, San Diego Padres and the Houston Astros.

GOLD GLOVE AWARDS

2007: Jonathan Wyatt, OF
2008: Rich Poythress, 1B

Beginning in 2007, the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) along with Rawlings Sporting Goods began a program where Rawlings Gold Glove Awards were presented to NCAA Division I players. Nomination and voting criteria are the same as the ABCA Rawlings All-Region and All-American Awards, which are collegiate baseball's oldest selections, dating back to 1949. The players and their schools each receive a Rawlings Gold Glove Award.

Georgia outfielder Jonathan Wyatt was one of the nine inaugural recipients in 2007. He led all SEC outfielders with a perfect 1.000 Fielding Percentage in 164 total chances in his final season with the Bulldogs. He was a 13th-round pick of the Chicago Cubs.

Rich Poythress received national recognition for his stellar play at first base for the SEC champion Bulldogs in 2008, earning a Gold Glove Award. He recorded a .995 fielding percentage in 69 starts with a school record 55 assists to go with 535 putouts in helping the team reach the College World Series Finals. Poythress finished his career with a .993 Fielding Percentage (1323 PO, 127 A, 10 E). He was a second round pick of the Seattle Mariners in 2009.

THE GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD

Gordon Beckham
2008 Finalist

The Golden Spikes award is given annually to the top amateur baseball player in America. Any exceptional collegiate, high school, youth program and independent amateur baseball players are eligible.

Six former Bulldogs have been nominated for this prestigious honor including first round picks Gordon Beckham and Joshua Fields in 2008 and second round pick Rich Poythress in 2009. Beckham was a finalist for the award while Fields and Poythress were semifinalists. In 1987, not only was it a banner year for the Bulldogs as a team, but also for some individuals. Pitchers Cris Carpenter and Derek Lilliquist were tabbed as nominees for the award. It marked only the second time that two teammates were nominated in the same year. In 1990 former Bulldog pitcher Dave Fleming, who led Georgia to its first-ever national championship, was nominated. The winner of the award goes through a selection process in which a 60-person committee ranks the top nine individuals and then selects a winner based upon exceptional athletic ability, sportsmanship, character, and overall contribution to the sport at any level.

The winner is automatically enshrined in the United States Baseball Federation's Amateur Baseball Hall of Fame. His named is also added to the permanent Golden Spikes Award at the National Baseball Hall of Fame. In addition, the winner also becomes the USBF's nominee for the AAU's Sullivan Award, which goes to the nation's top amateur athlete.

THE BERT KIZER AWARD

The Bert Kizer Award is named annually to the Georgia baseball letterman, who in his first year, displayed exemplory achievement in the combined areas of academics, athletics and citizenship.

The award was established during the 1991 season. Bert Kizer was a loyal Georgia Baseball supporter for a number of years. In fact, his two sons, Bubba and Craig, both lettered for the Bulldogs. Bubba was an All-America infielder who recorded a career .346 batting average from 1976-78. Craig lettered in 1981-82 and posted a career pitching record of 6-2.

MORTON HODGSON: One of the Best Ever

Morton Hodgson (1906-09) not only was a starter for four years in baseball, he lettered in football, basketball and track. He was Georgia's first four-letter athlete. A hometown hero, he hit .333 on the 1908 championship squad that was considered one of the greatest teams ever fielded by the University. The pitching staff was so strong it shut out 12 opponents, six in succession. He was named to Grantland Rice's All-Southern team.

His sons were stellar athletes for the Bulldogs and two of his grandsons lettered in football under Coach Vince Dooley. He is the only Georgia player to have a son and two grandsons letter in football at Georgia.

BULLDOG LORE

While C.E. Morris served as the coach for Georgia's first team in 1886, Hughie Jennings is credited with being the Bulldogs' first official coach. He played for 17 years in the Major Leagues while also managing the Detroit Tigers from 1907-20. He was the second shortstop and among the first 35 men elected to the Hall of Fame.

Former Bulldog Claude Derrick began his career with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909 and played on two World Championship teams in 1910 and 1911. In 1912 with Baltimore, Derrick was the first roommate of rookie George Herman Ruth, better known as "The Babe."

Home of The Bulldogs

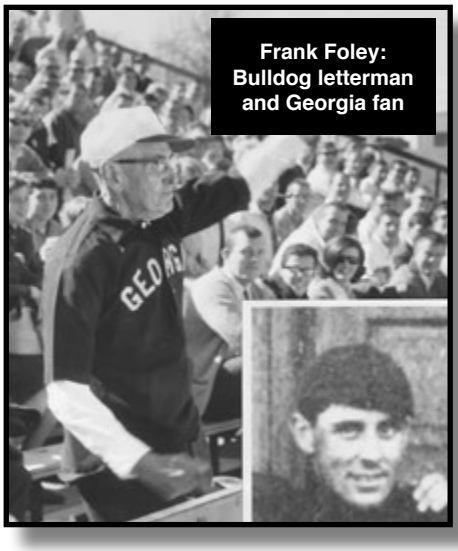
Foley Field has served as Georgia's home since 1966, and the stadium was constructed in 1990. Renovations to the facility have been made over the years, and the most recent was a $12 million project titled the "Foley Field Revival" that was completed in January of 2015.

The Foley family of Columbus is synonymous with Georgia baseball, and they provided the foundation for the Bulldogs latest stadium renovation with another leadership gift.

The large-scale measures of the revival included the following: Redesigning the stadium's main entrance, additional restrooms and concession areas, an expanded press box, club-level and field-level seating, improvements to the dugouts, Georgia's locker room and team lounge, training room and batting cages.

In 2013, the UGA Athletic Association board of directors approved and work was completed on a few items of the master plan. These parts included improvements to the right field area known as "Kudzu Hill," installation of a new high-definition video scoreboard and new trees behind the outfield fence.

Foley Field has served as a memorable postseason advantage for the Bulldogs. Georgia is 21-7 in the NCAA postseason in Athens including 16-0 in elimination games. Bulldog fans have witnessed Georgia clinch trips to the College World Series in 2001, 2006 and 2008. Also, the Bulldogs won an NCAA Regional at Foley Field in 2004 and eventually advanced to the CWS that year too.



Frank Foley: Bulldog letterman and Georgia fan

Judge Frank Foley is considered one of Georgia's all-time greats for his contributions both on and off the field. Foley was a part of the 1908 Southern championship team that recorded a mark of 20-2.

He was a distinguished alumnus who is remembered by many as a kind and caring gentleman. His enthusiasm for the University of Georgia was second to none.

Before Foley Field

The first home for Georgia baseball was Herty Field from 1886 until 1911. Then, it was Sanford Field until 1943. Pond Lippett threw the first no-hitter at home in Georgia history, blanking Pittsburgh 6-0 in 1920. Fred Sale pitched a perfect game at Sanford Field in 1923, a 4-0 win over Virginia. It was the first perfect game in Bulldog history and one of only two to date.

After World War II, the Diamond Dogs played on a field with no name located on "Ag. Hill," where Stegeman Coliseum is today. When construction for the Coliseum began in 1962, Georgia moved to its freshman field, which is next to where the Butts-Mehre building is now. In 1966, Georgia moved to its current location, and two years later, it was named Foley Field. On May 5, 1990, a $3.5 million refurbished Foley Field was dedicated.

SPRING BASEBALL CLASSIC FOR KIDS

For the 13th consecutive year, the Georgia Bulldogs will battle Georgia Tech at Turner Field, home of the Atlanta Braves, in the event billed as the Kauffman Tire Spring Baseball Classic for Kids.

The 2015 game will be on May 12th at 7 p.m. Georgia holds an 8-4 edge in the series at Turner Field. Tickets are $12 with proceeds benefitting Children's Healthcare of Atlanta and its pediatric research of the Children's Neurosciences Program. The game has raised more than $200,000 annually for the not-for-profit pediatric healthcare system. In 2010, a portion of the ticket sales went to the "Prayers for Chance Fund" to help offset medical expenses of Bulldog infielder Chance Veazey.

Since 2004, there have been more than 20,000 tickets sold annually for each game. It ranks as one of the nation's largest attended college baseball games each year.
